Crawshaw School Newsletter Term Four, Week Three 1 November, 2018

Kia Ora Whanau,

We continue to have new enrollments and I would like to extend a very warm welcome to all of our new whanau. We hope that your association with Crawshaw School will be a long and positive one. As I have said, when speaking to you all on enrollment, we are very keen to keep the lines of communication between home and school open. The best outcomes for learning are when we all work together as a team.

Our roll now stands at 323, the largest it has been for some years which is putting a strain on some classes with one class over 30 and several close to that. I'm sure that you appreciate that catering for all the different needs in a class this size is hard work. Our teachers are doing a great job of managing this.

Congratulations to Loress Morris-Barrs who was awarded the Altusa Young Citizen of the Year award at the ceremony last night. Her citation was: Loress strives to achieve her short and long term goals she sets and works to overcome the barriers she faces. A mature and well organised student who assumes positions of responsibility in the classroom, around school and our community. She continues to confidently present herself as a leader and a role model with a charismatic and a considerate nature that draws peers for advice, support and friendship. She is a caring, understanding and a supportive person who has proven herself to be a valuable member of our school and community. Well done Loress!

Our thanks to the Nawton Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints members who spent Saturday morning doing weeding and other garden related tasks for us. They did a terrific job. A big thanks also to Whaea Christine who spent Saturday morning at school supporting the project. It is this selflessness that is a hallmark of our profession and it serves as an example of why the profession deserves community support as our teachers engage in arduous negotiations with the Ministry over their working conditions and remuneration.

The latest news is that primary teachers and principals across the country have called for another round of strikes. These will be rolling strikes across the country beginning with us on 12 November, if the parties cannot settle prior to that. There will be more details later.

Tomorrow is our chance to ‘share’ with you, our community, “Kua tae te wā” (Its time). It is a community day of action. Teachers will be out at the gate from 8.20 hoping to talk with you about our concerns. We have a questionnaire that we would love you to complete to show your support. Find out more at <http://campaigns.nzei.org.nz/time/> Students are invited to wear GREEN tomorrow to show support for our hardworking teachers.

A reminder that the Kevin Lawson Memorial Award nominations are open and close on 23 Nov. Nomination forms are available at the school office.

Nga mihi
